Two Hyatt Hotels of Denver Downtown Join Sales Teams Presenting One of the Region's Largest Conglomerates of Guest Rooms and Event Space Combined

(Denver, CO ---Feb., 2011) Hyatt Hotels of Denver Downtown general managers, Ed Bucholtz at Hyatt Regency Denver at Colorado Convention Center, and Greg Leonard at Grand Hyatt Denver Downtown, announce that the two hotels' sales teams have now joined forces. In doing so, they are creating one of the largest single conglomerates of guest rooms and meeting space in the mid-western region, providing all of the convenience of one hotel, with the flavor of two. David Gauthier, director of sales, leads the team to offer meeting planners the ease of booking more than 120,600 square feet of combined meeting and event space and 1,616 guest rooms with one phone call.

The physical space in these two AAA Four Diamond award winning properties, located just two blocks apart and centered by the 16th Street Mall, Denver's renowned pedestrian promenade, is notable as well. Hyatt Regency Denver, steps from the Colorado Convention Center, offers Peaks Lounge available for daytime meetings and events. Located on the hotel's 27th floor and windowed on three sides, the views of the Mile High City and the nearby Rocky Mountains add to this room's ambiance. Hyatt Regency Denver also offers two ballrooms that can serve up to 3,000 people simultaneously for a sit-down banquet. At Grand Hyatt Denver, the 38th and 37th floor Pinnacle Club Conference Center showcases sweeping views of the entire Colorado Front Range with the twinkling Denver skyline in the foreground. In fact, guests can see Pikes Peak more than 100 miles away! In addition to several ballrooms, the hotel provides a fully dedicated kosher kitchen and offers off-premise catering.

“The Hyatt sales effort has always been one of the strongest in the industry”, said Richard Scharf, CEO of VisitDenver, Denver’s Convention and Visitors Bureau. “We believe they are responding to the customers’ preference to streamline the sales process, and provide a one stop shopping experience for clients who are interested in utilizing downtown Hyatt Hotels for their meeting needs.”
